The reason why there are changes between my One-pager and the end product is I felt that my first idea was a bit too ambitious than I expected so, I decided to go with something more plausible in the time period I had. Also, the changes I made to the Homepage from my comp I felt improved my work site a bit. Finally, in the Card Sort I mentioned 3D models for the portfolio, but none are there in the art section due to the fact I felt that I didn't have enough time to make a model of good enough quality to post so, in the art section I putted my scrapped logo I made, but I got rid of it due to I felt it was too unprofessional.
